The text of the citation, signed by President Richard Nixon 20 May 1970, reads as follows:

By virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States and as Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, I have today awarded

THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY)

FOR EXTRAORDINARY HEROISM

TO THE

2D BATTALION, 12TH CAVALRY,

1ST CAVALRY DIVISION (AIRMOBILE)

AND TO

TROOP B, 1ST SQUADRON

1ST CAVALRY REGIMENT

UNITED STATES ARMY

The 2d Battalion, 12th Cavalry, supported by Troop B, 1st Squadron, 1st Cavalry Regiment, distinguished itself by extraordinary heroism in combat during the period 2 January to 12 February 1968, in countering the North Vietnamese Army's Winter-Spring Offensive in Quang Nam Province, Republic of Vietnam. In five major engagements with enemy battalion- or larger-sized units, the men of the 2d Battalion, 12th Cavalry decisively defeated numerically superior enemy forces. Sacrificing hundreds of men, the enemy attempted in vain to hold positions or to seize objectives from the battalion in both defensive and offensive operations. The battalion never faltered in its aggressive assault against a determined and well-equipped foe. Crushing enemy initiative and rupturing enemy lines of communication, the battalion prevented the enemy from driving free world forces from the strategic Que Son Valley, which was key terrain in the battle for control of Quang Nam Province. Other heroic assaults against enemy positions in the Que Son Valley prevented the enemy from organizing to reinforce his units attacking the city of Hue. On 4 February the battalion was encircled by elements of the 6th North Vietnamese Army Regiment. Even though the enemy attempted to annihilate the battalion with human wave assaults near the hamlet of Thon Que Chu, the battalion's battle line held fast, and, during the night, the battalion exfiltrated without detection through the encircling enemy into positions even deeper within enemy lines of communication. This unexpected maneuver completely surprised the North Vietnamese Army forces (estimated at over 2,000 troops) and placed the battalion on commanding terrain inside the enemy rear area. From its new base, the battalion interdicted large enemy forces and continued surveillance on enemy movement to and from Hue. From the Que Son Valley to the outskirts of Hue, the 2d Battalion, 12th Cavalry and Troop B, 1st Squadron, 1st Armored Cavalry Regiment showed their gallant fighting timber during many days of sustained combat. Their outstanding bravery, determination, esprit de corps, and devotion to duty blunted the enemy offensive and brought great credit upon them, their unit, and the United States Army.

II. PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY). Award of the Presidential Unit Citation (Army) by the President of the United States of America to the following unit of the Armed Forces of the United States is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1. The text of the citation, signed by President Richard Nixon 16 April 1970, reads as follows:

By virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States and as Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, I have today awarded

THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY)

FOR EXTRAORDINARY HEROISM

TO

THE 3RD PLATOON, COMPANY A, 2D BATTALION,

27TH INFANTRY, 2D BRIGADE, 25TH INFANTRY DIVISION

UNITED STATES ARMY

The 3rd Platoon, Company A, 2d Battalion, 27th Infantry distinguished itself by extraordinary heroism in action against a hostile force in the vicinity of Tay Ninh, Tay Ninh Province, Republic of Vietnam, on 20 August 1968. After establishing an ambush patrol in a night location, enemy movement was sighted approximately 125 meters to the front. The order was given to engage the enemy, and, within a few seconds after the initial machinegun burst, the enemy retaliated with a tremendous volume of automatic weapons and rocket-propelled grenade fire. Attacking in two separate columns around three-fourths of the perimeter, the enemy forces threatened to breach the perimeter wire barrier. Although outnumbered by approximately 10 to 1, the platoon members defended their position and in so doing displayed great courage and professional ability. With one of their primary defensive weapons rendered useless, their leader twice wounded, and a meager supply of ammunition the defenders out-fought the enemy for the next five and one-half hours. On several occasions enemy mass assaults came within but a few feet of penetrating the position before being repelled by Claymore mines and hand grenades. Using the fire-power of supporting aircraft and ground forces, the defenders inflicted a devastating toll upon the attackers. The singleness of purpose and courage of the defenders gained victory in the face of overwhelming odds. By these actions the members of the 3rd Platoon have reflected the utmost credit upon themselves, their unit, and the United States Army.

5. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following units of the United States Army for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated:

THE 627TH HOSPITAL CENTER, UNITED STATES ARMY

The citation reads as follows:

The 627th Hospital Center is awarded the Meritorious Unit Commendation for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services in support of the care of patients being medically evacuated from the Republic of Vietnam to Japan for the period January 1966 through January 1970. Relying on its extensive resources of highly professional, experienced, and dedicated personnel, the unit provided consistently superb assistance and technical guidance to all of its subordinate units. The 627th Hospital Center was designated to assume command and control of a large medical complex which consisted of four large hospitals, a medical laboratory, a medical depot, ground and air ambulance units, and other cellular units with a combined strength of almost 4,000 personnel. The arrival of three hospitals confronted the 627th Hospital Center with a problem of providing suitable hospital facilities to support the influx of patients from Southeast Asia. This mission was accomplished in the most economical and expeditious manner by converting existing buildings and warehouses into hospital wards and operating rooms. Recognizing that the hospitals were not capable of coping with the existing situation and that a fixed facility environment was needed, the 627th Hospital Center corrected the shortage and imbalance of skills. In addition, the 627th Hospital Center developed a centralized funding system, permitting better standardization of equipment, which resulted in reducing maintenance, minimizing repair parts inventories, and equipping the hospitals at minimum cost. The officers and enlisted men of the 627th Hospital Center met the difficult challenge of controlling and coordinating this unusually heavy workload by exhibiting a high degree of judgment and stamina in expeditiously adapting to the ever-changing demands of the Vietnam conflict. The professional expertise and the devotion to duty of its individual members, along with the exceptional accomplishments of the 627th Hospital Center as a whole, reflect the utmost credit upon every member of the unit, the Army Medical Department, and the United States Army.
